For U. S. Senator:
Claude A. Swanson
Westmoreland Davis.
For Superintendent of Public Utilities:
John G. Lea
E. H. Marshall.

With the primary campaign virtually ended on Saturday, supporters of the two local candidates for superintendent of public utilities and those of Senator Claude Swanson and Westmoreland Davis, who aspires to the Senate, were today marshalling their forces for tomorrow's test before the electorate. The people of this city will have fourteen hours of daylight in which to cast their votes, the polls opening at sunrise, 5:15 a. m. and closing at 7:17 p. m.

Senator Swanson is expected to poll a good vote throughout the State, and while his opponent is making numerous claims of success, it is reasonable to believe that the Pittsylvania man will score a triumph and endorsement at the polls tomorrow at the hands of the Virginia people. It is conceded that the Fifth Congressional District, in which Senator Swanson's home is situated, will give him a handsome majority.

The local campaign is close with the supporters of Frank Talbot making claims as high as a two to one victory and with more conservative people detecting a trend to Talbot within the past week and a "comfortable" majority tomorrow night.

Supporters of E. H. Marshall, however, are highly enthusiastic and are said to be offering money on their man, which is also reported to be finding avid takers in the opposite camp. Nobody seems to be willing to venture on the success of the other. The total vote is expected to reach about 2,500. A Republican, who has been viewing the

Youth Held As Highway Robber

Native of Florida Charged With Holding Up Homer
Jenkins at Southern Depot.

Fred Lange, age 18, who says his native home is in Florida, was this morning held for the grand jury on a charge of highway robbery, having made a full confession in the police and court. The youth was also fined $30 and costs for carrying a concealed weapon.

The boy was arrested early Sunday morning about three hours after he had held up Homer Jenkins, a youth of about the same age, at the point of a pistol and relieved him of $35. The hold-up took place at the Southern depot shortly after midnight. Saturday. The arrest was made by Patrolman W. C. Talley, and F. M. Heflinger and John H. Hutson, special night watchman on Main street. It appears that Hutson was responsible for the arrest of the youthful robber. He said that the patrolmen had spent some time in searching for the lad, they were telling him about it and he at once identified the boy in his mind by the description given and told the officers to come with him and he would lead them to the boy's boarding house on Main street. With Jenkins they went to the place opposite the Y. M. C. A. and found Lange and another young man asleep. Jenkins readily identified the Lange youth as the boy who had held him up. The officers searched the room and no money or pistol could be found. They brought the boy to the police station and put him through a grilling examination. The boy broke down and confessed and said that he would go back with the officers and show them the money. They returned to his room and the youth reached behind a calendar and brought forth the money he had taken off Jenkins. He said that the pistol was an old one and no good and he threw it away.

Jenkins, the victim of the hold-up, is a fruit packer and was on his way to Roanoke with his companion, stating that Lange pressed the pistol and demanded that he throw up his hands, and then relieved him of the $35 which he carried in a match box.

Lange related a pathetic story. He said that his parents were poor and he got out of work at his home in Florida and that he drifted northward in search of employment. He met a youth by the name of Tom Neill. The two came to Danville about two weeks ago. His companion se-

Pulled Up Jail Vine By Roots

The attention of Judge D. Price Withers was this morning directed to an act of vandalism perpetrated, according to witnesses, by James P. Brooks and his former trusty, Boston Allen, a negro, before the jail, whose services on Saturday were dispensed with.

One of the prettiest improvements to the jail done by Brooks as jailer, was the planting of a vine over the steel lattice fence which enclosed the jail stocks. City Sergeant F. H. Bolesau bought the seed for flowers and shrubs with which the jail lot is now beautified.

According to prisoners in the city jail, as well as one outside, everything was done by Brooks and Allen pulled up the vine which covered the jail fence by the roots and today it was dropped and scorching under the ardent rays of the sun.

Judge Withers expressed himself forcibly in his opinion of the act, and decided to allow no former jailer the privilege of having his garden in the rear of the courthouse, is threatening to withdraw this privilege.

MARRIED SATURDAY
A wedding ceremony was celebrated at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Vaughan, of Danville, on Saturday, July 29, at 2 o'clock P. M. The bride, Miss Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Vaughan, was married to Mr. James P. Brooks, of Danville. They will make their home in Danville.

S. J. Anderson Laid At Rest

The funeral of Sterling J. Anderson was conducted Sunday afternoon at five o'clock from his home, 645 Jefferson street, by Rev. J. Callaway Robertson, pastor of Mount Vernon Methodist church of which the deceased had long been a member. The obsequies were very largely attended probably four hundred people being assembled in the house and on the lawn outside and in the street, all classes of citizenship being present. At Green Hill cemetery where the interment was made in the family plot was an even larger concourse.

After the services at the house attended by the Pythians and the Loyal Order of Moose the commitment service at the graveside took place. F. K. Farley having charge of the Pythian service which immediately followed. The Loyal Order of Moose formed the "defensive circle" around the grave.

The floral expressions of sympathy for the family and esteem for the deceased were unusually numerous and beautiful there being fully seventy pieces.

The pall bearers were William H. Jones, Eugene Marshall, C. H. Shepherd, C. M. Hamlett, Fred K. Farley, and F. H. Wheatley.

The flower bearers were L. W. Purdum, D. M. Turner, W. E. Hurd, Jack Pluggen, G. T. Felley, W. H. Wacker, Luther R. Fair, W. H. Kympton, S. J. Babcock, C. S. Anderson, Herbert Clark, Russell Edmunds, George S. Moore, Frank P. Ferrell, Mayor Harry Wooding, W. T. Fowler, J. T. Towns, G. A. Giles, J. H. Winkler, Frank Cox, Charles B. Davis, Sam Martin, J. W. ## Two Meet Death When Plane Falls

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., July 30.—Lieut. Henry Lyons, O. R. C. aviation section, U. S. A., and Augustus Altemeyer, Jr. of Port Jervis were burned to death at Port Jervis this afternoon when an airplane in which they were riding crashed to earth. Breaking of a propeller caused the plane to take a fatal nose dive.

Explosion of the gasoline tank, coincident with the crash, flamed both men and the plane in flames. The bodies were burned beyond recognition.

The plane fell from a height of approximately 50 feet and about an eighth of a mile from where it started. The plane, the C. H. 4, from Mitchell Field, Mineola, L. I., had carried Lieutenants Lyons and Captain Doug of Chester, Orange county, to their homes on Saturday. Lieutenant Lyons was starting for Chester, while Altemeyer as a passenger, to pick up Captain Doug, when the accident happened. They had planned to return to Mineola tonight.

Lieutenant Lyons was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lyons of Port Jervis, while Altemeyer was the son of Augustus Altemeyer, postmaster at Port Jervis.

V. M. I. ALUMNI 100 PER CENT FOR SWANSON

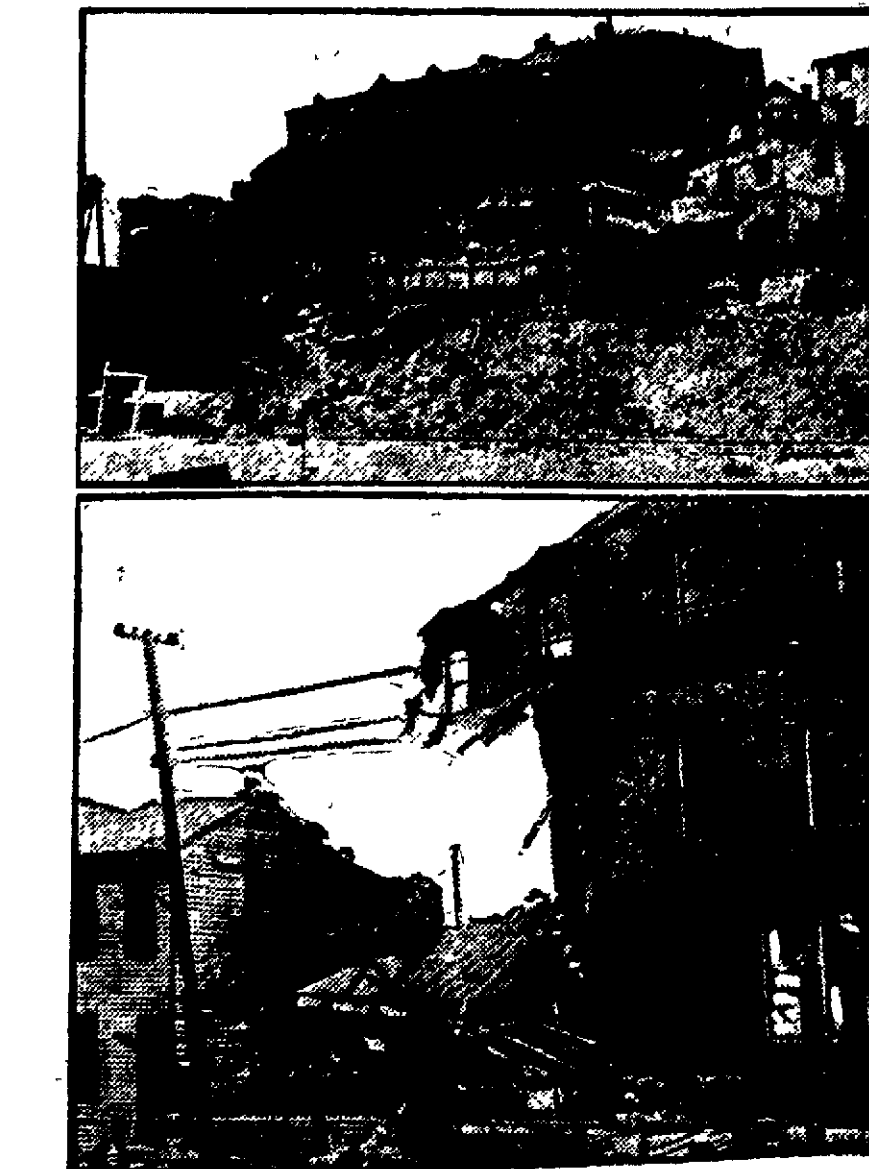

LEXINGTON, Va., July 29.—A canvass made by several V. M. I. alumni, who attended the finals this year and have come in contact with many of the alumni throughout the State, report that the alumni are practically one hundred per cent for Senator Swanson. Those who have not been for Swanson in the past are now for him as they are very bitter against Westmoreland Davis, who, while governor, made several appointments to the board of education from voting members of the board, and appointing men who had never attended the institution, thus breaking an established custom which all loyal cadets believe should be maintained. Also while Davis was governor the appropriation for V. M. I. was cut considerably. It appears that the appointments to the V. M. I. Board were made solely for political reasons, as there are hundreds of prominent V. M. I. men throughout the State.

WHAT DYNAMITE DID

Here is the unanticipated finish of a civic improvement. A rapid transit excavation was being made along the base of Fairview Hill, Cincinnati, O. Then the hill started sliding toward the excavation. So city officials determined upon removing buildings on the hill. Dynamite was used, the operation requiring three days. Multitudes looked on from what was estimated as a safe distance, but three, standing a block away, were injured by flying debris. A number of charges were necessary to demolish the four-story apartment building shown in the upper picture. Below: The effect of one charge.

Expect Early Settlement of Rail Walkout

Strike Leaders Gather for Conference to Consider Harding's Peace Plan.

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, July 31.—Strike leaders are arriving from all parts of the country today for Tuesday's meeting, called to consider President Harding's plan for a settlement of the railway strike and hopes were expressed that the men will be back to work before the end of the week. The position of the striking shopmen was expressed by A. O. Wharton, labor member of the Labor Board who declared that "if either railroad executives in New York or shopcrafts policy committee in Chicago should reject Harding's peace proposal, the group that rejects it faces full responsibility for a continuance of the railroad strike and all that might result therefrom."

Invisible Empire Puts Out Ticket

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 31.—The Ku Klux Klan issue today still held the center of attention in tomorrow's primary election. This is especially true in the three-cornered race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, with J. C. Walton, mayor of Oklahoma City, E. H. Wilson, state superintendent of public instruction, Thomas H. Owen, former justice of the Supreme court as candidates. Wilson's name headed the "model ticket" purported to have been drawn by the "Invisible Empire" and distributed generally yesterday.

Miss Gordon Richards left Sunday for Charlottesville to attend the University of Virginia.

"There he goes," somebody asserted, and the deputy made a dive, landing on a reporter, who denied that he was the man to be served.

Lady Essex Found Dead In Bathtub

LONDON, July 31.—The Countess of Essex, erstwhile famous beauty, was discovered dead in a bath tub this morning. She had been found last night with Margot Asquith at the home of Hon. Mrs. Rupert Beckett. Lady Essex suffered from heart trouble. She is the daughter of the late Beuch Grant of New York, and is the second wife of the seventh Earl of Essex, who died in 1916. She was a beautiful tall, dark-eyed brunette, and was engaged successively to Lord Cairns and Lord Garmyle, and was friendly with King Edward.

Expect Showdown; Pool vs. Auction

Can't Quit Stealing, Girl Says In Court

NEW YORK, July 31.—Frances Gilbert, a 17-year-old stenographer of 8 First Avenue, Gogota, N. J., yesterday told Justice Fresch, Herbert and Voorhees in Special Sessions, that she simply couldn't resist pilfering articles in department stores. She was arrested by store detectives on July 25th last, when detected in the act of stealing a sweater worth $13.94 at Macy's.

When she was called for trial Justice Fresch, who presided, recognized her as the girl who was arraigned before him last April for shoplifting and who was released on suspended sentence when she promised she would keep away from department stores. She obtained employment in a downtown office for the time being.

"She just can't keep her hands off things when she is in a department store," Miss May Mangano, a probation officer told the justice. "She is an orphan, and her brother, who lives with his family in Bogota, induced her to come to his home last Summer in an effort to remove her from temptation. She was employed in an uptown office when she was arrested in April last, but on her brother's insistence, she obtained employment in a downtown office for the time being."

The brother of the girl informed the Court that his sister received $25 a week and had no reason to steal, but that it seemed impossible to dissuade her from taking articles without paying for them.

In pleading guilty, the girl told the court that she took the sweater impulsively and seemed to have no control over herself on entering a department store. She said she was offering the plea she broke into tears. The court remanded her to the Tombs for sentence next Friday and ordered Miss Mangano further to investigate the case.

Sues Rich Contractor for Alleged Alienation of Affections—Trailed Couple to Coast.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 31.—The pretty face of a farmhand's wife is mirrored in two separate suits for $100,000 each filed here against William A. Martin, wealthy contractor and owner of a handsome estate at Hopewell Junction.

Morgan strip, the complainant, recognizing the monetary limitations of his pastoral status, had permitted his young wife to engage as housekeeper at the Martin home. Out of this situation, the husband alleges, sprang the troubles narrated in his two court actions, first charging alienation of his wife's affections, and second, accusing Martin of robbing him of Mrs. Strip's aid and service.

The separate chronicles of the aggrieved farmer relate that on May 18 his wife failed to return to her home at the customary hour, dropping out of sight for some time.

That on the same day the rich contractor and property holder, formerly of New York, likewise disappeared. That the husband thought wrong of his wife, believing that she must have gone to visit her mother in Poughkeepsie, until he learned from the older woman that her daughter had not been there.

That in the meantime, the rich man and his pretty housekeeper had gone to New York; thence through Pennsylvania, stopping at various points of interest, continuing their journey to the Pacific coast and jumping up to Canada for a short while.

That Martin is the owner of some mining properties near Phoenix, Arizona, and therefore stopped there for a few days to loiter on the trail at Buffalo. He alleges that Martin was then becoming wary and hastened to comply with various business demands, leaving Mrs. Strip in Buffalo.

Martin wrote and telephoned the young woman frequently, so her husband says and thereby prompted him to keep his detective in close watch and to accompany them on the same train when they made the homeward journey to Poughkeepsie.

On her return home Mrs. Strip went to the house of her mother. She did not visit her husband at Arthursburg.

Martin is said to have gone at once to his place at Hopewell Junction, to get to work on the estate, in possession there and unwilling to admit him. His whereabouts at present are not known.

South Carolina Season Opens Tomorrow With Many Danville Men On Hand to Witness Crucial Period.

Danville tobacco men are leaving in numbers today and tomorrow for South Carolina, where the season opens tomorrow. Some few have already left here and others would have gone before this, but for the desire to participate in tomorrow's primary. Probably one hundred men will leave here before the end of the week for the South Carolina markets, some of them being identified with the "pool," others with the auction houses, while quite a number are going as observers, for this week is to see the operation for the first time of the tobacco growers' co-operative movement—a giant union of farmers, which has been in course of organization for the past 13 months.

The season is destined to be an important one in the tobacco industry, for very much will depend upon the success of the opening, the and the organizers of the pool are concentrating in South Carolina to see that the launching is a smooth one. The association takes in the states of South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia as one unit. The South Carolina season is opening unusually early this year, owing to favorable season. Much is said to depend upon the scale of prices obtaining on the South Carolina market under the two different methods of tobacco marketing. If the auction prices are higher than those obtaining under the co-operative plan, some look for a landslide to the auction method, whereas if the same scale of prices prevail under the co-operative plan this will be construed as a show of strength for the pool.

Leaders of local firms and corporations are going south to witness the development of the situation, and some of them will return by the end of the week with news of the situation.

CLUES FOUND TO ASSAILANTS OF RAIL WORKERS

Bloodhounds May Seek Men Who Tarred Inspectors at Hagerstown — Strikers Deny Responsibility.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., July 31.—Prominent citizens of Hagerstown, including many business and professional men, are ready to co-operate with the county and city officials and the Western Maryland Railroad in running down and punishing to the limit the perpetrators of the assault committed in the Western Maryland yards here late Friday night, when Walter Thompson of Baltimore and Dewey Batt, of Winchester, Va., two car inspectors were assaulted, beaten and the garbled and feathered to their waists by nine masked men, presumably strikers.

Strong pressure is being brought to bear upon the board of county commissioners to offer a reward of at least $1,000 for the arrest of the assailants of the men, and citizens are endeavoring to get the officials to bring bloodhounds here from Virginia to help run down the men guilty of the crime. In the meantime Sheriff Kline and his deputies, Chief of Police Thomas H. Barber and the Western Maryland detectives are bending every effort to this end. The officers, it is reported, have found clues that may lead to arrest soon.

According to a statement given out by railroad officers, Thompson and Batt sat down at the end of a train awaiting an engine and they were about 10 lengths from a guard when they were attacked. The guard said he heard no noise. When the men were missed search was made for them by detectives. While the search was in progress, a message came from Williamsport that the men had been brought to that place in an automobile. Officers immediately left for that town and brought the wounded men to the hospital.

Officers are of the opinion that a gang of men who attacked two employees of the Dickson Construction Company early Friday morning on West Side Avenue may have been concerned in the attack on the inspectors and they are endeavoring to follow up clues in this connection.

The general body of strikers, disclaiming any knowledge of the men implicated in the affair, express themselves as disapproving the act if the assailants of the men are strikers. It is the impression that a small gang of men, whether strikers or not, are responsible for the crime, which has aroused the city and is the crowning act of a series of assaults against strikebreakers here recently.

Sawyer Will Stay, Harding to Legion

White House Won't Be Dictated to On Hospital Selections, Is Statement—Rebuffs Sprague Attack.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—President Harding does not propose to be dictated to by spokesmen for the American Legion, disabled veterans or local interests in the selection of sites for hospitals for disabled veterans of the world war. This emphatic statement today at the White House followed receipt of another long telegram from Col. Sprague, Veterans' head, continuing his charges against Brig. Gen. Sawyer, the President's personal physician.

Mr. Harding, it was stated, will take advice regarding the selection of sites for hospitals for disabled veterans solely from the members of the governmental hospital advisory board, of which General Sawyer is a member. Congress, in its wisdom or lack of wisdom, which is the way the president views the situation, according to an authoritative statement today, placed responsibility for the selection of these sites on the shoulders of the chief executive. It was added that the president will not delegate this responsibility to any one else.

It was pointed out that the White House that in the Seventh District, where a fight has been in progress over the hospitalization programme, nearly all of the hospitals for that district (Illinois, Indiana and Michigan) were located at Chicago. When it was decided to put another hospital in the district the president personally demanded it be located in Michigan, which has not a single hospital for veterans.

NEWS OF CHATHAM

CHATHAM, July 31.—The board of supervision in meeting this week allowed a large number of small claims against the county aggregating several thousand dollars the larger of which were $500 to each of six magisterial districts for road work for the month of August and $855 for work during the same month in Tunstall district $280 for two four-horse road graders, $244 for making capitation lists of voters. The act passed at the last legislature prohibiting the operation of motor vehicles with muffler not in operation was adopted by Pittsylvania county to become effective as of September first, next. Several road applications were heard. In Pittsylvania county circuit court this week, William Halston was convicted of murder and given 30 years in the penitentiary. Cleveland Atkins for violation of the Mapp act fined $50 and one month in jail. Geo. Smith for house-breaking, acquitted. West Sutherland and Phil Sutherland for larceny, nolle prosequed. Criminal against Jones as to ownership of less than one acre of land, the land in question was divided equally between the two. E. M. Henderson, against C. L. Martin, judgment for $140 for plaintiff, Hazlewood against Geo. Y. Barber, judgment for $400. Judgment for plaintiff of $400, Henry Dickerson against Turner as to ownership of cow, judgment for plaintiff H. S. Wells, against Wade Blair, judgment for plaintiff F. S. Anderson against Clinton Barber, judgment for defendant G. A. Doss against A. W. Jones, judgment for plaintiff.

Mrs. Rosa Carter of this place, breather her last on Friday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. L. Chaffin, at Williamsport, W. Va. Mrs. Carter was well advanced in years and was among the oldest citizens of this place, having spent her entire life here. She was visiting at the time of her death. She is survived by the following children: W. L. Carter, of New York; Perry Carter, of Georgia; Mrs. J. L. Chaffin, of Williamsport, W. Va.; and Mrs. Chas. A. Stutz of this place. Her body will reach this place this afternoon and interment will be in Chatham cemetery on Sunday, the hour yet to be determined. Besides her children she is survived by a large family connection here.

Mrs. Herbert Vaden and children, of Newbern, N. C., are guests at the home of G. H. Vaden.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Carter and Mrs. Ernest Stevens returned this week from a stay of some time at Lake Junaluska, N. C.

Mr. E. H. Shelton, sick out after a spell of several days, is looking better.

Burglars have been known to carry acids for testing gold and silver articles.

Whiteville Market Has Little Tobacco

A long distance telephone message to the Bee from Whiteville, N. C., on the South Carolina line, this afternoon was to the effect that while the season opens there tomorrow little activity is expected until the middle of next week. It was reported that neither the pool nor the auction warehouses had any tobacco beyond a few small lots for tomorrow's opening. The crop was reported to be good in that section with the auction warehouses and the pool of officials both sanguine of results when the season begins to strike its stride.

Little can be told this week about the fortunes of the pool and the auction system and it will be next week before tobacco in quantity begins to arrive at which time it is expected that results may be gauged.

Fatal Accident Near Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, July 30.—James F. Paxton, for ten or twelve years a member of the police department of the city, but lately rural policeman, was killed this afternoon and his cousin, J. O. Paxton, seriously injured besides the breaking of both of his legs in a motorcycle accident on the plaza in Charlotte. Jim Paxton was a regular member of police force for some years, later rural police. J. O. Paxton is motorcycle officer. "Jim" and J. O. Paxton were coming southward on the plaza in a motorcycle with side car attached. Jim Paxton was the driver, J. O. Paxton in the car. They were going at a rapid rate of speed and something went wrong about the steering gear and the machine left the road and struck an iron lightning post in the middle of the plaza.

Jim Paxton's head struck the post with full momentum of speed at which they were going. He was killed instantly, one side of his head being crushed like an egg shell. J. O. Paxton's legs were broken and crushed above the knees and otherwise hurt.

Jim Paxton was a splendid specimen of physical manhood and universally popular. He was a big-hearted, fearless man, a friend to all and feared by none. Chief Orr, said of him, "He was as brave a man as ever lived and as white a man as I ever knew." He leaves a wife and two children.

SAY PEACE TERMS HAVE BEEN AGREED TO

CHICAGO, July 31.—Peace terms have already been agreed to in the country wide railway strike and formal ratification has been assured through President Harding's efforts, it was tonight by a man in close official touch with the situation.

All that now remains before the strike which has cost the workers upward of $40,000,000 in wages paid during the last week, is the formal endorsement of the terms of settlement by the railway executives meeting in New York and the strike leaders who will convene in Chicago at the same hour.

The attitude of President Harding's proposal was a foregone conclusion before T. Dewitt Cuyler issued the call for the meeting of the rail executives in New York and B. M. Jewell, head of the striking shopmen, announced similar meeting of union chiefs to the same date. This man, who has been in closest touch with the entire situation declared.

"The rail executives will finally decide to yield for the good of the country, sweeping aside the seniority issue," he continued, "but their gesture will give little consolation to the men who walked out on July 1 for besides their loss in pay they will lose some of their seniority rights to the men who remained at work."

The exact terms probably will not be known until after Tuesday's meetings, but whatever they are the objections of a minority on either side will not be sufficiently strong to obstruct or prevent their ratification by both sides.

The seniority issue has been raised since the beginning of the strike it must be remembered, and it is not as great a stumbling block as it has seemed at times. When the time comes it will be disposed of with justice to all and to the satisfaction of the great majority of the workers."

A Husband a Month, Girls, Foils Ennui; Run 'Em in Relays

CHICAGO, July 31.—The course of true love runs smooth for thirty days. That is the theory on which "Mrs. Pease" has been marrying.

As far as she can see, there is little difference between getting a new husband and a new hat. You have them both sent home on approval, use them awhile, decide something else would be better, and send them back.

So now there are men in New York, Indiana, Illinois, Wyoming and South Dakota whom Dora married. "Hello!" they all say. "The license says to bring back in thirty days. Sent that a piece of money back if you're not satisfied."

Dora Pease explained to the Court of Domestic Relations.

"I keep 'em thirty days and return 'em, as it says on the marriage license. I get a new husband and a new house. It's the only way to keep peace."

She liked Mr. Pease best and so I kept him, but I couldn't risk living with him after the time on the license was up."

But somehow the court disapproved and Dora must stand trial. Her latest, John Bruzowski, will be exhibit A, and exhibit B, C, and the rest of the alphabet are being sought.

Negro Admits Killing Police

RICHMOND, July 31.—In his cell in the city jail, to which he was brought Monday at noon Alvin W. Harris, colored, aged 22, charged with the murder of Magistrate Meredith at Gainesville about three weeks ago, today admitted to a representative of the Bee that he was guilty of killing the magistrate and said that he did not intend to make any denial of it.

He gave a description of the killing, saying that he shot Magistrate Meredith in the back with a three barreled revolver. He gave an excuse that he believed that the magistrate was about to draw a pistol with which to shoot him.

He said that the first shot he fired struck the magistrate in the back and another shot in the back and the third shot in the head. "Did you know that he was an officer of the law?" he was asked. "Yes," he responded. "How did it happen?" he was asked. He replied, "He came to the house of my father-in-law, and I was just coming away from the house and met him in the road. He said he was going to arrest me and put his hand to his hip pocket. I drew out my pistol and shot him. He fell to the ground. Harris took to the woods, he said, and remained in hiding while the officers pursued him six days and nights.

"Did you know he was dead after you shot him?" he was asked. "Yes," he said. "I saw that he was dead." It was about 1:30 o'clock on a Tuesday afternoon that the killing occurred, he said.

Harris said his home was in Bristol Va. He said he had trouble with his wife and that was the reason he was sought with a warrant by the magistrate.

"Did Magistrate Meredith ever draw a pistol or weapon of any kind from his pocket?" Harris was asked. "No," he replied.

"Who did you kill him?" he was asked finally.

"Because I thought he was going to shoot me," he responded.

"Harris will be tried at the October term of Prince William county circuit court."

Macon Spends Quiet Day After Shooting

MACON, Ga., July 30.—Macon has been quiet all day following disorders of last night after the shooting of Deputy Sheriff Byrd. A deputy has gone to Leesburg to identify the men in custody there.

Apparently paying little heed to the arrest of the two cyclists, continued to guard all roads leading out of Macon, following a report that a negro suspect named Glover was to be taken out of town in an automobile during the night. Every car is being searched as it leaves the city and highways at the county lines.

"We feel sure that Glover is in Macon," said Chief Deputy Lane Mullally.

Police continued to guard property along Broadway, where last night following the shooting of Byrd, and which was still closed tonight.

George Marshall, one of the wounded negroes, died at 11:30 o'clock tonight. Sam Brooks, shot through the abdomen, is in a dying condition.

Destructive Storm Sweeps Over Elkin

ELKIN, N. C., July 30.—A destructive storm, somewhat of a hail swept over this section Friday afternoon. Trees were hurled in every direction here in town telephone and electric light service were hindered for a time and all growing crops were greatly damaged. Farmers from the surrounding communities report serious damage to their tobacco crops by the hail.

(By the Associated Press.)
CONSTANTINOPLE, July 31.—British troops today are being transported across the Bosphorus from the Asiatic to the European side, crossing Constantinople on the way to the Tchaikou line, to reinforce French troops.

Three Cubans Held for Kidnapping U. S. Agent

HAVANNA, July 31.—Three arrests were made last night at Sagua Grande, Santa Clara province, in connection with the kidnapping Thursday of Eugene Jova, acting American consular agent there, who reached Sagua yesterday after being seriously wounded in escaping from his captors.

A message received by the general army staff from the headquarters of the Santa Clara military district said rural guards arrested Pantaleon Oliva Acosta on suspicion of being the leader of the kidnapping gang, and Fernando Fernandez, Garcia, and Manuel Garcia Spindars, as his followers. It was added that Jova would be given a chance today to identify them.

Seeks Wife On Visit to Find Her Drowned

MADISON, Wis., July 31.—The woman drowned in Lake Mendota here Wednesday was identified today as Mrs. Grace Pease, wife of R. E. Pease, professor of English at the Municipal University of Akron, Ohio.

Mr. Pease came to Madison today from Akron, expecting to find his wife visiting with the family of A. J. Myrland, secretary of the Wisconsin Tax Commission. He had not appeared at their home and, learning of the accidental drowning in Lake Mendota, he visited the undertaking room in which the body of the woman was being held. He identified her as his wife.

Ring Disappearance Adds to Death Mystery

MADISON, Wis., July 31.—The disappearance of two diamond rings, two handbags and clothing of Mrs. R. E. Pease, wife of Professor Pease of the Municipal University of Akron, Ohio, who mysteriously drowned in Lake Mendota Wednesday, further complicated police investigation of the tragedy.

While still believing that his wife's death was due to accidental drowning, Mr. Pease is unable to explain the disappearance of the personal effects, the fact that she did not register at the hotel on her arrival or call on friends as intended.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sadler of Philadelphia, Pa., are visiting their sister, Mrs. W. H. Booth. They are here to attend the Booth-Bentley wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Strange and their son, Sterling Strange, of Richmond, were here yesterday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Strange's brother, S. J. Anderson.

Knows No Spirits But Those Barred By Volstead Act

Mme. Fraya Declares She Predicted That Prince Yusupoff Would Kill a Man — Clairvoyant's Weird Tale.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 30.—Mrs. L. D. McMaster, an Oklahoma City medium, has been barred from further practice of her profession in this state.

Bessie Jones, a clerk in the office of the county attorney, arranged for a "reading," and though Mrs. McMaster received a spirit message from Minnehaha to the following effect:

"You are going to meet a blond fellow, a blond-headed fellow, and this blond-headed fellow will come between you and the black-headed fellow. You are going to marry a wealthy man."

The attorney for Mrs. McMaster sought to save her from conviction on the ground that the state prohibits interference with the free exercise of religious beliefs and practices, and that she is a member of the National Spiritualist Association, Inc., and has had a license to give spiritual advice to others, but Justice Bessie, of the criminal court of appeals, refused to take that view of it.

"We admit our inability to decide conclusively whether this is a religion, or whether it is a philosophy or a system of metaphysical speculation," said the justice. "We are inclined to lean toward the latter view, but are not sufficiently advised to decide that point. We do affirm that this record tends to show that, whether religious in its nature or not, it is a system of speculative philosophy, attended with superstitious credulity and, in the instant case, tinged with hypocrisy. The spiritualist association's principles of philanthropy and its belief in the golden rule would apply to the Masonic order, the Elks, the Rotary club, or the Boy Scouts and like organizations, none of which are considered religious organizations. Even if the purposes of these organizations are religious in their nature, it is difficult to see how the practice of giving 'readings' or telling fortunes concerning the mating inclinations of men and women could be religious in any sense."

IN THE POLICE COURT.

Fines of $5 and costs each were imposed on the following for trespass on the Southern Railway: John Eady, Joseph Kennon, C. Siger, G. F. Franklin, James Leon and Joe Lewis. Various excuses were given but were not good enough in the eyes of the court, and the fines were imposed.

George Moore, colored, was fined $10 and costs for an alleged assault on his wife, Minnie Moore.

The case of J. Alvin Walker, charged with operating a car without a permit, was set for Saturday.

Joe Davis, fined $5 and costs for driving a truck on the sidewalk.

F. S. Lumford, fined $10 and costs for violating the Mapp Act.

Lizzie Kyles and Mary Reed, both colored, fined $1.50 for creating a disturbance.

The docket as usual on Monday morning contained numerous cases of drunks and these were disposed of with the usual $10 and costs being imposed.

Epitaph Pastor Calls Ministers Baboon Boosters

NEW YORK, July 31.—The Very Rev. Howard Chandler Robbins, dean of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, was attacked for this theology by the Rev. Dr. George W. McPherson, a scientist, in a sermon last evening at Old First Evangelical across the street from the Cathedral at Amsterdam avenue and 110th street. Dr. McPherson called Dean Robbins a "baboon" and classed him with the "baboon" Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, a "baboon" professor in Union Theological Seminary, and special preacher at the First Presbyterian church, Fifth and Eleventh streets. Dr. McPherson demanded that both be informed by their respective ecclesiastical bodies that they cannot longer continue in their present charges drawing their salaries, as he thinks it is not right for them to thrive on the sacrifice of the people who believe in the Bible as the Word of God. In his sermon, Dr. McPherson said:

"Dean Robbins and Dr. Fosdick, in repudiating Genesis repudiate the New Testament. All such teachers, consistent in the propagation of this pagan evolution theory, should establish a new church for evolutionists and not seek to destroy the true church of Jesus Christ. And they should name their church, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine or the First Presbyterian Church, but they should name it 'A Church for the Descendants of Apes,' for the trail of these men leads not to Bethlehem's manger, but to Calvary's cross, to the open grave, or the coming triumphant Christ, but to the wilderness. One should naturally gravitate to his own company, and if he is truly ethical, get his own crowd to pay his salary, and not leech-like, graft himself and his pagan ideas upon Christian churches built upon the inerrant Word of God."

"Those who profess beastly ancestry should form churches of their own," he said, "and the sooner the better for all concerned. Those who claim to bear the mark of the beast cannot be in full fellowship with those who know they are made in the image of God."

"If these evolutionists, the botanical baboon boosters to which Dean Robbins and Dr. Fosdick belong are consistent, they will see that they form new churches, and that above the doors of such churches appear in large letters, 'Only those permitted to worship here who believe themselves to be of beastly origin.' The religion of reason, of rationalism, the religion that dominates Dean Robbins and Dr. Fosdick as above, will never win the world to God."

TRY THIS WITH YOUR BABY AT TEETHING TIME

New Cordial Called "Anti-Ferment," Originated By a Druggist and Recommended By Physicians, Proves Wonderful Aid in Keeping Babies from Becoming Upset During Teething Time.

No Opium or Other Harmful Drugs. Safe and Immediately Effective. Pleasant in Taste.

The cutting of teeth is a tax on the infant's little system, which is reflected directly upon the stomach, the seat of all ills, causing what is commonly termed "indigestion," or improper elimination of toxic poisons that have accumulated on account of the fermentation of food in the stomach. If you will use Anti-Ferment with your baby at teething time, you won't realize that baby is cutting teeth until they creep through the gums. Anti-Ferment prevents food fermentation, keeps the stomach, bowels and intestinal tract free of toxic poisons and irritations, and baby is perfectly normal all through this period.

Your doctor will approve the use of Anti-Ferment. It is perfectly harmless, pleasant in taste and yet very effective. Your druggist can supply you. Specify "Anti-Ferment for children."—adv.

AIRPLANES—"THEN" AND "NOW"

Do you remember back 13 years, when Orville Wright thrilled the world by demonstrating to the United States government that two persons could be carried in a sustained airplane flight?

That was at Fort Myer, Va., in 1909, and marked the entry of the United States into the airplane business. Take a look at the middle picture above. It was in this machine that Wright convinced a skeptical world that airplanes had more than suicidal possibilities as passenger carriers. With Lieut. Frank P. Lahm, Signal Corps, as a passenger, he made a flight of one hour and 12 minutes, traveling 50 miles at an average speed of 40 miles an hour. A day or two afterward he carried Lieut. Benjamin D. Foule over the 10-mile course from Fort Myer to Alexandria, Va., at a speed of more than 42 miles an hour.

Wright's triumph at Fort Myer was the outcome of continuous experiments since 1903, the year when man was first lifted into the air by a power-propelled airplane. The man was Orville Wright. The flight, which lasted 59 seconds, was made at Kitty Hawk, N. C., in a biplane. A speed of 30 miles an hour was attained. But since that first astounding passenger flight of 1909! Take a look at the upper picture. It is a Ver-

U. S. GENEROUS TO THE STATES

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(United Press.)—Congressional outbursts of oratory in defense of state rights to the contrary, Uncle Sam is, has, and will continue to be a most indulgent "father" to the forty-eight states of the Union in matters monetary.

His annual output to the states for social welfare and improvements dings the treasury vaults upwards of one hundred and eleven millions of dollars a year.

A concrete example of the ease with which "Uncle" is worked is offered by a perusal of treasury department records for the fiscal year just closed. During the twelve months ended June 30, 1922, Uncle Sam donated for the promotion of education, construction of roads, prevention of disease, etc., exactly $111,065,903. Other expenditures during the year for the sole benefit of the states places the total materially higher, but this figure indicates the major output annually, and probably will be slightly exceeded during the fiscal year 1923.

The department of agriculture is perhaps the greatest of the "fairly goodmothers" extending a helping hand to the states in behalf of Uncle Sam. This agency of the government handles numerous federal aid funds from which advances were made last year as follows:

Payments to states and territories from the national forest fund, $1,107,500; payments to school funds, Arizona and New Mexico forest funds, $70,000; reestablishment of agricultural experimental stations at colleges from the appropriation for states relation service, $1,414,000; cooperative extension of agricultural work $5,530,000; cooperative construction of roads and trails in the national forests, $1,220,000; cooperative construction of rural post roads, $55,000; construction of federal forest roads, $2,000,000; forest road department, $2,500,000 work on forest highways $2,500,000.

The department of interior likewise handed out a sizable sum of money during the fiscal year 1922, the major item, standing at $2,300,000, having been allocated to colleges for the promotion of agriculture and mechanic arts. Other expenditures included $1,553,300 in payments to states from receipts under the oil leasing act of February 25, 1920, and about $60,000 in aid under the "five, three and two per cent funds to states."

Federal aid to state in the matter of training and rehabilitating war veterans is another item which helps to shrink the treasury reserve. Funds were distributed for cooperative vocational education in agriculture, $1,252,800; cooperative vocational education in trades, $1,272,500; general cooperative vocational education, $981,000; and cooperative vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry $740,000.

All-in-all Uncle Sam isn't such a tight-fisted old gent as some of our honorable representatives in Congress would have us believe.

ville racer, seven of which will be entered in the airplane races this fall. Its powerful motor is expected to drive it at more than 200 miles an hour.

In the lower picture is shown one of the three planes which make daily flights between Cleveland, O., and Detroit, Mich., on a regular passenger line operated by the Aeromarine Airways Company. These planes carry 14 persons, and cover the 110-mile journey in approximately an hour and a half. Since the inauguration three years ago of air-passenger service in various parts of the country by this company, it has transported thousands of persons without an injury or fatality.

Also consider the record of the United States air mail service. With not a fatality recorded against it during the past year, planes have covered more than 1,750,000 miles on the various divisions between New York and San Francisco, carrying mail matter weighing 1,224,500 pounds—a total of more than 49,000,000 letters.

PHONE TELLS TALES ON HIM

CHICAGO, July 29.—It's almost always the wife who is last to hear of the love affairs of her husband— isn't that so?

The whole neighborhood and half the town, beyond is usually buzzing with gossip for months before the deceived wife even suspects—

But when a thing goes on as long as that the wife may be depended on to get quickly enough to make up for a lot of lost time.

So it was with Mrs. Marguerite Connelly Rose, daughter of John T. Connelly, president of the Illinois Coal company, and wife of Dr. Charles M. Rose, a fashionable Chicago physician. Dr. Rose had been philandering around town for three years, but Mrs. Rose never guessed it until June 22 last, when she chanced to pick up a telephone receiver on an extension in her room, when the bell rang. She did not think the doctor was in his office—but he was, and what she heard prompted her to gather so much evidence that within two weeks she had filed papers for divorce and won a decree.

"I knew nothing of my husband's love affairs until one day I happened to pick up an extension telephone in our home," she said on the witness stand. "I heard him talking to a woman."

"Later I asked him who the woman was. He said he had been talking to a man about business. Later he broke down and confessed that the woman was Ferol Fairman, a dancer, and that he had been very fond of her for three years."

"I asked him if she had ever been in my home. He said she had. We separated."

She was given the custody of their six-year-old son, John, and the question of alimony was reserved, pending a possible agreement. The divorce was granted just 24 hours after the first papers were filed in the case.

Pajama parties staged by Dr. Rose and an episode in room 212 at the Edgewater Beach hotel were also described in court. House Detective Robert E. Calkins told of the hotel episode.

George A. Beasley, assistant manager, corroborated his testimony. Then came Hannah Carlson, em in an apartment at No. 3320 Pine Grove avenue. She said that when Mrs. Rose was in Palm Beach between February 15 and March 6 the doctor frequently entertained women at the apartment.

"It was nine in the morning," she said. "I was in the front room dusting. I looked up and saw a dark-haired woman, dressed only in pajamas, cross the hall from one bedroom to another."

"Upon other occasions I heard the doctor talking to a woman in the bedroom. The wedding of the Roses, in 1914, was in St. Ita's church, with the Rev. John H. Crowe officiating.

The first years of married life, as read from the divorce bill, were happy, and it was not until April 3, 1921, that discord entered the home. On that date, as set forth in the bill, the first grounds for divorce were laid. On that date the first charge of infidelity is made. Then, from February 18 to March 6, 1922, there was another period during which improper relations between Doctor Rose and Miss Fairman are charged.

TRAFFIC ON LINES IN WEST IS UNAFFECTED

CHICAGO, July 29.—Both freight and passenger traffic on Western lines having headquarters in Chicago are practically unaffected by the shopmen's strike, said a statement issued tonight by the Western presidents' committee on public relations of the association of railway executives.

More than 7,100 shopmen, the statement asserted were employed this week.

"Freight traffic demands are being met currently and passenger trains are being operated normally with but slight delays," said the statement. "All of the roads report increases in the number of men at work in their shops, the total increase since July 24 on all Western roads being 7,169 shopmen."

A man seeking railroad employment was seized by three unidentified men while riding on an interurban car near Tulsa, Okla., today, forced to alight, and accompany them to a lonely spot in a suburb, where he was given a severe beating.

Effect of the railroad strike is being reflected on the livestock market at Kansas City in a lessened demand for beef and other meats, the result of increased unemployment, says a statement of the Kansas City livestock market. Otherwise, says the review, the strike is felt only by delay in the arrival of some trains.

Trench maps, which were printed for military use on strong canvas, are now being used in England to make inner soles for tennis shoes.

At the present rate of exchange it costs $2,000 to maintain an American soldier for one year, $1350 for an English soldier and $375 for a French soldier.

FOUND NOT GUILTY OF MURDER CHARGE

ATLANTA, Ga., July 29.—O. P. Allen, an employe of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway, was found not guilty of murder by a jury in Superior court tonight.

Allen had been charged with the shooting of Dan Walton, one of two men slain in recent troubles at road's local yards which followed a rock battle between employes and sympathizers with the road's fight to employ all of whom went on strike more than a year ago after a wage dispute.

Arms and legs will have disappeared from the human body in 10,000 years, according to one scientist.

Prohibition Among World's Great Advances, Says Fannie Hurst

FANNIE HURST

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY
NEW YORK, July 31.—Fannie Hurst, novelist, says America has set back the world prohibition movement 50 years.

"We are the horrible example," she says. "Europe at this time is enjoying prohibition. Now Europe is laughing at America, reckoning we have bungled it so much that liquor is safe with them for a long time."

Miss Hurst, just back from a European tour, thinks most anti-prohibitionists would be converted if they took the trip.

"We have lost our perspective here," she says. "Everybody is howling against the dry amendment. We don't see its benefits until we go abroad and compare conditions."

"Prohibition is one of the greatest sociological reforms the world has known! My friends think I am crazy to talk like this, but I believe it."

More Tippling in Europe
The famous novelist said she found people in France, England and Germany were drinking more liquor than before the war.

"Frenchmen are still wine drinkers, but they're putting away more spirits than they ever did," she said. "In Germany the beer is back to normal. Germany is dousing herself off faster than any other country."

"The effects of liquor can be seen plainly in the East End of London. The place looks horrible beside our own Bowery. For the Bowery looks shaved and spruced up."

Miss Hurst says American women do more talking than actual drinking when they go abroad.

Talk Ooze, Drink Water
"Lots of them make up for lost time in a drinking way," she said.

"But I noticed most American men talked about cocktails and drank water. I think a lot of our talented drinkers have lost their grip. They hate to admit it, but they have."

Actual prohibition, Miss Hurst thinks, will not come in the United States until the next generation. "We got it by a fluke," she said. "That's why the howl continues against it. And that's one of the reasons why I think the people of European countries, horrified and amused at our bungled job, will not accept prohibition for many years."

Hubby as Chapoone
Miss Hurst was chaperoned during the interview by her husband, J. S. Danielson, musician.

Yes, absolutely—in the same apartment.
Miss Hurst has given up her own "scholar" quarters, in spite of the old arrangement of husband and wife only taking breakfast together.

Why, they even went abroad together.
But she's still Miss Hurst, of course—not Mrs. Danielson.

SEND ENLISTED MEN TO EJECT OIL SQUATTERS

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Maj. Gen. Lejune, commandant of the Marine corps was ordered today by Acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt to send one officer and three of four enlisted men into the Teapot dome naval oil reserve, Wyoming, near Casper, to eject oil squatters, who have been drilling for oil. The secretary said he acted on information furnished by the interior department.

The barometer was invented about the middle of the Seventh Century.

Eminent Jap Chemist Dies

NEW YORK, July 29.—Dr. Jokichi Takamine, the chemist and perhaps the best-known Japanese in this country, died recently at the Lenox Hill hospital, where he had been ill for several weeks of heart disease. His illness dated back two years, and he had almost regained his strength when his activities in welcoming the delegates of the Japanese Business Men's Mission, Baron Shibusawa's party, and the Japanese delegates to the disarmament conference brought on a recurrence of his illness. He was forced to take to his bed on Dec. 16, 1921, and never again regained his strength.

With Dr. Takamine at the time of his death were his wife, his two sons, Eben and Jokichi, with their wives and his sister, Mrs. J. Takehashi. A few intimate friends were also at the bedside.

Born in Japan in 1854
Dr. Takamine was widely known in the United States and Japan for his work for better relations between the two countries and his achievements in chemistry. He was born Nov. 3, 1854, at Kanazawa City in Kaga Province, Japan, the first son of Setcho Yuki Takamine and a samurai of the Kanazawa clan. His father was a physician to the Prince of Kaga. When 12 years old he went to Nagasaki to study under the Portuguese Consul, and later went to Osaka to study medicine. He was one of the first graduates of the Imperial university of Japan at Tokyo, taking his degree in Engineering and chemistry. He then went as a government student to the University of Glasgow and the Andersonian University of Glasgow, where he spent three years.

On his return to Japan Dr. Takamine was appointed chemist of the department of agriculture and commerce where he did much to improve the brewing of sake and the making of indigo. The quick applicability of his inventions to commercial uses was always a marked feature of his work. His appointment as Japanese commissioner to the cotton centennial world's fair at New Orleans in 1884 was the turning point of his life, for there he met Miss Caroline Hitch, whom he married and resolved to spend the rest of his life in the United States.

Has Two Greatest Discoveries
He went to Tokyo in 1887 to erect the first superphosphate works in Japan, and his two sons, Jokichi and Eben, were born there. He returned to America in 1890 and began his research work which brought him recognition as a commercial chemist. His two greatest discoveries were adrenalin and takadiastase. He discovered adrenalin in 1900 through experiments with the glands to sheep. It is a powerful hormone which regulates the world to raise blood pressure, which is accomplished through the contraction of the small arteries. It has made possible bloodless surgery in minor operations, especially on the throat and throat. He was honored for his discovery by surgeons all over the world.

Dr. Takamine discovered takadiastase in 1894. It is obtained from a fungus growth mainly on the rice plant, known as aspergillus oryzae, and is largely used in the fermentation of sake, or rice beer, in Japan. It is also used by physicians for stomach digestion and is today a remedy known to all druggists.

A company was formed in Chicago for the manufacture of this product and it soon became very profitable. In the meantime, he introduced many new industries into Japan, among which were soda, fertilizer, fireworks, dye, alkali and aluminum, and was also the founder of a large pharmaceutical corporation. He established a chemical and physical research laboratory at Tokyo and on his return here set up a laboratory of his own at Clifton, N. J.

Decorated by Japanese Emperor
Dr. Takamine was made doctor of chemical engineering in the University of Japan and doctor of pharmacology in 1906. He was decorated by the Japanese Emperor with the Fourth Order of the Rising Sun in 1915, having been appointed member of the Royal Academy of Science by the emperor in 1913. He was president of Sankyo & Co., Ltd., Tokyo; Takamine Ferment Company, International Takamine Ferment Company, Takamine Laboratory, Inc., and Takamine, Incorporated.

He founded the Nippon Club, of New York, the Japan-American Society, the Chemical and Research Society of Japan and was prominent among the founders of the Japan Chemical Society of England, the Institute of Chemical Engineers and the Franklin Institute.

A tribute to Dr. Takamine was paid yesterday by his friend, J. I. C. Clark, who had known him for many years, and said:

"Apart from his devotion to science it was his dearest wish to promote abiding and enduring friendship between the land of his birth and that of his adoption. In the field of chemistry of life he had created powerful corporations to develop and apply his valuable inventions and discoveries, always keeping before him his cherished ideal of a union between Japan and the United States based on a common economic interest and mutual esteem. In his pursuit of this ideal he incessantly worked with tireless zeal and grim determination, giving most unstintingly, and was rightly spoken of as an unswerving Ambassador of Good-Will between the two nations. An intense lover of Japan, its ancient art, its domestic virtues, its rich traditions, he became an equally ardent lover of the United States, its high ideals, its balanced freedom."

Dr. Takamine had a unique country home at Merriewood Park, Sullivan county, N. Y. He purchased two of the Japanese buildings at the St. Louis Exposition, combined them under one roof and adapted them to American life surrounding them with a wealth of Japanese designs and gardens. His friends were frequently entertained there.

LONDON TAKES TO U. S. SOFT DRINKS
WASHINGTON, July 29.—(United Press)—Is prohibition really sweeping across the Atlantic to Great Britain?

Reports to the department of commerce indicate that American soft drinks are becoming popular in the British Isles. Until recently soda fountains, according to commerce department reports, were practically unknown in London. Now they can be found in all the principal cities. One agent claims to have sold 150 fountains in the last year. The majority of the fountains go to chocolate shops, department stores and cafes. The drug stores not yet having entered into the business.

Mrs. Maurice Fitch, and little son, have returned from a visit to Blue Ridge Summit.

Carvington Smith, of Richmond, is spending the week-end with friends here.

JURY WILL TRY KENTUCKY MULE AS RUM RUNNER

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 29.—One bay mule, nine years old; one army saddle, one bridle and one pair of army saddle bags will be tried on a second offense for transporting whisky, at the next term of Federal court at Jackson, according to a statement made here at the Kentucky prohibition office, telling of the seizure of the mule and apparels of moonshine whisky.

Prohibition Agent J. D. W. Collins, who completed the formal seizure after the mule had been captured by a Letcher county deputy, said that he "arrested" the same mule the latter part of last week, but its owner got the mule out of trouble by paying the fine and the appraised value of the beast.

The trial will be conducted before Judge A. M. J. Cochran and a jury with as much solemnity as if the defendant were a human being.

Young Peale Johnson outgassed Green yesterday, or the big left-hander was unable to pitch to him, passing him twice. Nobody else got a walk on Green.

TO THE CITIZENS OF DANVILLE

In deciding to offer as a candidate for the office of Supt. of Public Utilities of the City of Danville, it looked to me that there was a real sentiment for a change in this office. During the campaign, I have been convinced that this opinion was correct, and I have had so many voluntary offers of support, which I could not possibly have anticipated, that I am confident of election by a good majority; but at the same time I urge upon all my friends to register now and be sure to vote on next Tuesday.

I stated in my first card that my campaign would be largely in the hands of my friends, for the reason that my time belongs to my employers, and I have felt that my first duty was to them. I believe everybody understands how I have been situated and that it has not been possible for me to make an active personal canvass; nor have I had the time or money to maintain an office and force to get out personal letters to the individual voters. Therefore, I hope this published statement will be considered personal and individual to each voter.

As stated in a previous card, this is the most important office in the City Government and I believe should have the undivided time of whomever may be in charge. If elected, I promise to give my whole time to the duties of this particular office; that I will give up all other business, and will accept no office, for pay or otherwise, that will in any way conflict. I will not meddle with other departments, or anything not directly concerned with this office.

I am without reserve in favor of maintaining the water, gas and electric departments as Municipal operations, and will use my best efforts to have them operated in an efficient manner and to the best interest of all the people. The people are entitled to the service for which they are willing to pay, and provision should be made to improve the water and gas service, which has been so noticeably poor in certain sections of the City.

I believe in proportion in the different departments and that when vacancies occur they should be filled, when possible, with home citizens; and I would say in this connection that no present employee need have any fear of me, so long as he proves efficient and capable. Further, I state emphatically I believe in paying good wages and in studying economies. The scale of wages paid should be always maintained at a high level.

I firmly believe in the right of the people to select the official for this office. Direct responsibility of public officials always insures closer attention to duty, better service and more consideration for the wishes of the people. The citizens of Danville own these properties, not a few officials, and I believe it would be a fatal mistake to vote away your right to a voice in the selection of this official. I re-affirm my belief that an official always on the job, working for the best interest of the people, and making a reasonable success, may expect fair treatment at their hands.

The right to aspire to public office is as old as this country, and I have offered for this position on the assumption, as stated above, that a large majority of the people are not satisfied with things as they are. If elected, which I am confident I will be, I shall always be grateful to my friends and supporters and will endeavor in every way possible to justify their confidence.

Again expressing my regret at not being able to see more of my fellow citizens personally and soliciting your support on next Tuesday, I am

Very cordially yours,

R. H. MARSHALL.

R&B.

P. S.—It has just come to my attention that my opponent, Mr. Talbott, is preparing at the last moment, to make a big display of his accomplishments during his incumbency, in the way of the new electric plant, enlarged gas plant, streets, etc. A majority of the voters already know what has been going on in Danville and will recognize that these improvements come with the normal and natural growth of the City, just as we have to have new and larger hotels, churches, schools, etc. It is not hard to do big things when somebody else furnishes plenty of money, and I believe few people will think Mr. Talbott has done more than any other man who might have been in his place. Has he been working for you out of the goodness of his heart, or do you think he has been well paid for the services performed?

I give Mr. Talbott full credit for an honest and well-meant expenditure of the City's funds, but beyond that I think he can claim no special credit.

Further, on account of lack of time, I will not have an opportunity to analyze and point out any inaccuracies in his claims, or to show, possibly, where money may have been wasted from time to time.

The Big Display is on its way, maybe a full page ad, and more than likely, as outlined above, you will find a lot of chaff mixed in with the wheat.

E. H. M.

FLIGHT ACROSS NATION DELAYED

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 29.—The transcontinental airplane flight from Jacksonville, Fla., to San Diego, Calif., planned by Lieutenant James H. Doolittle, of elite field, will be delayed several days to complete the construction of a special flying plane, it was announced today. Lieutenant Doolittle hopes to hop off at San Antonio early Thursday morning, August 3, for a non-stop flight to Jacksonville, where he will remain two or three days, watching weather conditions.

Making the big jump from the Atlantic to the Pacific with only one stop to be made at San Antonio, Doolittle will leave Camp Johnston, near Jacksonville, Fla., on Sunday, August 7, for an all-night flight to San Antonio. The delay in the construction of the ship has been due to difficulty in equipping the plane with a 25 gallon gasoline tank for a 12 hour flight without a stop.

Regan tried to catch the visitors flat-footed yesterday when he bunted in the fifth inning, but in dumping the ball, it had too much speed, and was too near the pitcher. Allen ate it up. It was a fortunate sequence of long and hard hits that saved up the game for Danville yesterday, just as a similar sequence gave Raleigh its long-sided score Friday.

DORIS KENYON BARES HER SECRETS OF BEAUTY

DORIS KENYON

BY DORIS KENYON
Famed for Her Beautiful Eyes
EYES always talk, but what they say depends on the mind and character of the individual. Raised to their highest beauty, they become the most compelling feature of any face. Nothing gives them such a beauty as a vital interest in life, and nothing so devalues them as self-interest.

The greatest beautifiers of the eye are the agencies which promote the best state of health—plenty of sleep, regular habits and hygienic living. The reckless misuse of eyes in youth is so universal it is no wonder we are a spectacle nation.

MUCH of the expression of the eye depends on the lashes and brows and these are most responsive to regular care. It is strange more women do not cultivate these instead of resorting to pencil or stain which is always noticeable and give to the face a hard look.

Brows and lashes should be brushed nightly with an eyebrow brush and if they are thin a little vaseline or olive oil should be rubbed in, using great care none gets into contact with the pupil. Anointing the brows with glycerin or alcohol will give them a pleasing luster.

One of the things stage women learn is to exercise the eyes daily to promote mobility and expressiveness. Turn them in every direction, far and near, up and down and sidewise. Oculists tell me the oftener the eyes can be directed to some distant object, to far-away hills or vast areas, so far as to recommend decorating the home with pictures that give a distant perspective.

To use the eyes steadily in artificial or flickering light, or in strong sunlight is a decided strain. So is reading in bed, no matter how much you enjoy it.

"Rubbing the eyes on waking up in the morning or when sleepiness is injurious as all pressure and harsh movement tends to flatten the eye-ball and hasten the time when glasses will be necessary.

Tired eyes are revived by bathing them in a weak salt-water solution

Baseball Notes

"Butch" Worth didn't show up again!

The Danville outfield shone with any in the league yesterday, both in the field and at the bat.

That boy Rodgers has found his place. A man of his youth who can field and bat as he does has a future in the game.

Trexler continues to show the way to the other batmen of the team and is fielding in brilliant form.

"Ducky" Holmes shook his hoodoo yesterday and landed on the ball, as well as pulling a circus catch.

Charlie Carroll's Greensboro bunch which showed a burst of speed in their last series here, has slowed down appreciably.

Hoke Floyd, left fielder for Raleigh, is another ball player who looks like a man slated for higher class ball. He's always dangerous in a pinch.

It was delightful to see how those boys worked the "squeeze" in that opening inning. It fairly made the girls envious.

The report persists that "Lefty" Graham is coming to Danville, but nobody explains how a team under the national agreement can play him, unless and until he has been reinstated.

Owner "Alec" Davis was all smiles yesterday when the people continued to pour in. It was a great crowd, especially following a 6 to 1 defeat the preceding day.

Many admirers of Bill Allen were sorry that the jinx selected him to land on yesterday, but the Tobaccoists had those swats in their system.

Two homers in one game tend to make Rodgers a likely candidate for the "Babe" Ruth title in the Piedmont. Keep it up Rodge, old boy.

Danville must now tackle the leaders, at High Point, for a couple of games. With Rube Eldridge and French pitching so effectively and one of them due today, Gudge Harris will have to be on his mettle to beat them. When he is good, he can stack up against any of 'em.

On Wednesday and Thursday Greensboro will be here, and there are many who believe the Carrollites cannot do it again. The locals are playing like a new team, with speed and confidence.

The first four teams in the Piedmont league are bunched as prettily as one cares to see it. The second-half honors are anybody's yet, and Danville is playing ball like somebody.

An even break with the Pinters would be very gratifying to adherents of the local team. Let's go, boys! Getatem with the punch of yesterday.

With such a fielding and hitting outfield as Danville people saw yesterday, it is hard to see how it can be strengthened much.

Baker hit into a double-tragedy yesterday in sixth and spoiled a promising scoring prospect. But they all do it sometimes. Abbott had perambulated and Green got on by an error. With one out Baker's boulder snuffed out the hopes.

McMillan did not land his bingle yesterday, but his hunt was too fast and failed. He worked Allen for a walk once.

HORSE STEALS RIDE ON RAILWAY ENGINE

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C. July 30—How a horse stole a ride on the cow-catcher of a railway train is told by the crew of a British Columbia Electric Railroad train, Fraser Valley branch.

At Hope, B. C., according to the story the train was forced to stop to allow a band of horses to get off the track. No member of the crew saw any of the animals mount the cow-catcher, but when the train reached a stop near here a horse was seen to step off the catcher calmly shake itself and trot off into the fields.

TO MY FELLOW CITIZENS:

In deciding your vote for a Superintendent of the Water, Gas and Electric Departments remember the following facts:

Remember 1st. That during the 19 years I have been in full Executive control of the City's Utilities, out of their own collections, the Water, Gas and Electric Departments have paid all operating expenses; have provided for the payment of all bonds issued against the properties; have, after full depreciation is allowed, increased its property values (including the erection of the Pump House, Filter Station, Gas House, Electric Power Plant, the Northside Booster Pumping Station) by $624,462.64; and in addition have turned over to the "General Fund" of the City Treasury a surplus of $469,304.34.

Remember 2nd. That this surplus of $469,304.34 has largely enabled Danville to maintain the lowest tax rate of all the larger Cities in Virginia. Danville's tax rate is now $1.75; Lynchburg, $1.90; Petersburg, $2.00; Portsmouth, $2.10; Richmond, $2.10; Roanoke, $2.20 and Norfolk, $2.25.

Remember 3rd. That Danville charges less for Gas than any city in Virginia though we have to pay a higher freight rate on coal than any other Virginia City. Danville's net rate on gas is $1.20; Richmond's, $1.30; Lynchburg's, $1.60; Petersburg, Durham, Winston, Raleigh and Greensboro, each $1.90.

Remember 4th. That Danville's rate on Water is 7 1/2c net; Roanoke, 25c; Lynchburg, 25c; Winston, 30c; Greensboro, 30c.

Remember 5th. That Danville's rate on electric current ranging from 7.2c net per kilowatt to 1.5c per kilowatt is lower than the rate in Roanoke, Richmond or any other City of Virginia or Carolina, similarly situated.

Remember 6th. That although the Marshall Club and the Anonymous friends of the Marshall Club have diligently sought to scrape up some charge against me they have utterly failed to sustain a single charge against either my official conduct or my personal character.

Remember 7th. That having served an apprenticeship of 13 years under Captain C. A. Ballou, and having had an actual experience of 32 years, I am in a better position to secure still better service and still lower prices than would be an applicant who possesses no technical training; has had no practical experience; and who announced over his own signature that he could claim no special qualifications for the job he desires you to give him.

Willing as I am to leave the decision on this question to the votes of all the people, and believing as I do in the fair-mindedness of my fellow citizens, I await with confidence the verdict of Tuesday's election.

Deeply appreciative of what has already been done in my behalf and thanking you in advance for your further support on election day, I promise, when re-elected, to stand for the highest interests of our entire City, and of all our people.

Respectfully Yours,

B&amp;R FRANK TALBOTT.

IT IS OUR DESIRE

To pursue a progressive policy and to give Danville a reliable, dependable and adequate Street Car Service, one of which we and every other citizen of Danville may be proud.

We can not do that on a deficit such as is now in prospect for us.

We ask the people of Danville to stand behind (not in front of) us and to help us to be the kind of Street Car Company they want Danville to have.

First Senator, Then Governor. Her Plan

MRS. JENNIE MacMILLAN

"There is no reason why a woman should not sit in the governor's chair. And if I am successful in my campaign for the state Senate, I'm going to try for that post."

Mrs. Jennie MacMillan, Glen Park, N. Y., only woman justice in the state, who is running for state senator, says that.

"I do believe that no woman with a home and family should stangle herself from these influences merely to enter politics," she explains.

"But my family is back of me and encouraging me. I love the political game as far as I have played it, and want to go further."

"My platform will feature legislative reforms in the interest of farmers and workers."

TO THE WORKING PEOPLE OF DANVILLE.
Vote for Claude Swanson and be sure to vote for Frank Talbott who keeps down the price of water, gas and electricity and who is the friend of the poor man.

Berlin Has the Remodelling Craze

BERLIN, July 29—Berlin's changing skyline is one of the several outward manifestations which are provoking comment by post-war visitors who vividly recall the city's pre-war appearance, both with respect to the cleanliness of streets and the uniform height of buildings.

This period of transition is having the effect of creating among the city's inhabitants a sort of grouch, due to the disfigured conditions of many of the main thoroughfares and also a species of envy with which the "high falutin'" tourists are viewed by the natives. The native seem to feel that they are not only being crowded out but obliged to pay more for such lodgings as are available, on account of the fascination which the high offers of foreigners seem to have for Berlin landlords.

The prevailing housing shortage also is reflected in the dearth of office accommodations, and the capital's once rigid building laws prescribing the heights of buildings are now being given more liberal interpretation. As a result, there is scarcely a street in the central section of the metropolis which is not cluttered up by clumsy scaffolding or whose sidewalks are not barred to pedestrians. The municipality is not opposing applications for permits for added stories on all sorts of buildings, primarily because the remodeling process is giving needed employment to thousands of workmen.

The functions of public waste paper containers placed at regular intervals along the main streets in pre-war days are now being usurped by women and children who swoop down upon scraps of paper and discarded newspapers, which later are sold as waste. This profession would have been impossible in the days when Berlin was so immaculately kept, as the native or stranger who dared to throw a paper into the sidewalk or into the street would have promptly run into one of the many "verboten" of the by gone days.

Altogether, Berlin is no longer the "spareless town" that it once was, despite the fact that the street cleaning department is costing more than 700 times the sum formerly allowed in the municipal budget.

"Life of The Party" Vanishes off Ship As It Nears Home

Georgian, Back from Britain, Last Seen on the President Roosevelt at 1
A. M. Friday—Was In Best of Humor, Did Well
In Business.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Edwin Atwater Seitz, fifty-nine, of Atlanta, Ga., mysteriously disappeared from the steamship President Roosevelt of the United States Lines early yesterday as that vessel was approaching Ambrose Light Vessel.

Mr. Seitz was the representative in Great Britain for the Corona Typewriter Company. He is described as a man of exemplary habits, pleasant in manner and of striking personal appearance. He is unmarried.

Mr. Seitz is presumed to have fallen from the ship but neither officers nor members of the crew that explain how. He was last seen by two fellow passengers, Raymond R. Pot-tle, an expert on machinery, staying at the Hotel McAlpine, and Major Charles E. Livingston of this city.
Mr. Pottle last saw him on the promenade deck on the starboard side forward, about 12:30 yesterday morning, and Major Livingston about a half hour later on the port side forward, when the Major was taking a good-night smoke.

According to both Mr. Pottle and Major Livingston, Mr. Seitz seemed to be in the best of humor and chatted gayly with them, telling them that he was not particularly tired and as the night was humid he would wait until the pilot was aboard off the Ambrose Light Vessel.

He was not missed until the customers officers came aboard the President Roosevelt at 11:30 yesterday morning and began checking up the passenger list of ninety-four with the number on board. There was a rechecking and eventually
Mr. Seitz was found to be missing.

The Captain's dinner, the last dinner before the vessel docks, was held Thursday evening. At the Major and Mr. Seitz were Mr. William S. Seipp, a Chicago banker, and Miss Anna K.
Porter of Philadelphia. Little liquor was drunk at the meal and none of those at the table was under its influence.

Mr. Seitz, described as a good story teller and the life of the table, was in particularly good humor and expressed regret that such a pleasant gathering had to be broken up and that circumstances would compel each to go his own way after landing.

Following the dinner, all hands went to the promenade deck. Mr.
Seitz moved freely about and had a kindly word for all he met. As the evening grew gradually made their way to their staterooms. Mr. Seitz being one of the few who remained on deck.

Major Livingston was the last to see Mr. Seitz. None of the passengers saw Mr. Seitz after that. The passengers at that hour. No splash was heard by the deck officers as of a heavy body falling overboard.

Yesterday a search was made of Mr. Seitz's stateroom. The door was locked and the purser had to use his pass key. The bed had not been slept in; everything was in perfect order. Mr. Seitz's trunk and two suitcases were neatly packed. In the dusker was his wallet and $57 in cash.

Mr. Pottle says, however, that he knew Seitz to have had $125 with him besides the $57. Whether this money was on his person when he disappeared the officials are trying to determine.

The ship's librarian recalled that he had brought to the attention of Mr.
Seitz late Thursday night that he still had two books from the library halfway and asked him to be sure and return them. "Oh, yes," said Mr.
Seitz. "I'll finish them tonight and leave them with you tomorrow morning."

Thomas H. Rossbottom, general manager of the United States Lines, along with A. E. Clegg and E. J. Mc-Cormack, managing operators for the United States Shipping Board, were passengers on the President Roosevelt, returning from conferences abroad on freight and passenger traffic with directors of the North German Lloyd Line.

They bent all their energies to help solve the Seitz mystery. They ordered the ship searched from stem to stern and every nook and cranny of the vessel was looked into.

According to Mr. Seitz' friends, he was doing well in business. Pool play seems to be the Seitz mystery. They ordered the ship searched from stem to stern and every nook and cranny of
the vessel was looked into.

MAN KILLED OVER FIFTEEN CENT BET, HEARING SHOWS

CHARLOTTESVILLE, July 30.—
That the killing of Robert Batten by Gilbert Via, at Mt. Fair, in the western end of the county, at the foot of the Blue Ridge, July 18, was the result of a trivial bet of 15 cents as to which of the two men was the better shot, was revealed at the preliminary hearing his morning before a bench of five county magistrates.

The justices also heard a batch of cross-warrants that were issued by and against various other parties mixed up in the unfortunate affair.

The evidence produced showed that Batten challenged Via for a test of skill on Saturday, July 15, and placed a bet of 15 cents that he could beat him. Via won the shoot and got the small amount of change, whereupon Batten claimed to be the better man and virtually forced a fight, in which Via again worsted him.

On the Sunday following it appears that relatives and friends of Batten brought the matter up again by appearing at the Via house and proceeded to threaten him and make a show of violence, there being six in the party. It is stated that they violently abused Via and his brother and insisted on having the matter fought.

out, but Mrs. Via restrained her boys and the party quieted down. But this proved not to be the end of the affair, as on Tuesday afternoon Robert Bat-
ten again came over to the Via place,
ten again came over to the Via place,
convinced by some of his supporters, including Mrs. Batten, and not finding Gilbert at home denounced him as a coward and demanded of Mrs. Via to state where she was hiding him.

In the meanwhile Gilbert Via and his brother Allen had gone up on the mountain to see a family of Shiflets and had taken his shot gun along, as he said, to try to get a groundhog.
When he reached a hollow in the road below his house Robert Batten spied him and made at him, pistol in hand, using vile epithets and denouncing him as a coward.

Via states that he then shot to defend himself, as his life was in imminent danger.

As stated further, some one in the Batten party grabbed the pistol from the fallen man's hand and endeavored to shoot Via, but he could not work
the automatic.

Mrs. Batten was present, endeavoring to attack Gilbert, whereupon Allen Via struck her over the head, as he says, to prevent further casualties.

Deadly Drinks Are Sold In Abundance

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Action of the prohibition forces in tightening up on withdrawals of bonded liquor is resulting in flooding the country with poisonous imitations which are menacing those who buy them, reports to Washington prohibition headquarters show.

The latest report of bootleggers is said to be as follows: "rubbing" compounds. Complaints are being made from various sections of the country that these preparations are being doctored and sold as substitutes for real whisky, where that article is hard to get and that dozens of persons have been poisoned, some fatally.

Coming to the reported widespread use of these compounds, many consuming supposedly undrinkable alcohol, prohibition authorities have started an investigation into the matter.
It was announced today, it was indicated that the investigation is not into the poison cases, but into the fact that the material is apparently being utilized by "hooch" purveyors.

The States of Ohio and Pennsylvania are the latest to report the presence of large quantities of spurious liquor since withdrawals of the real article have been curtailed. So careless are the manufacturers of these allegedly poisonous imitations that on some bottles the labels of distillery in one State is often stamped with the tax labels of some different State, making the imitation very obvious.

HUSBAND UNTRUST-
WORTHY: SEE DRINKS POISON

COLUMBUS, Ga. July 29.—With the pitiful plea contained in a note she left in her home that "my husband had picked out a rotten woman. I am going to end it all," Mrs. Mollie Bowling, 16, wife of a local laundryman, drank the contents of a small bottle of strychnine here today and a few minutes afterwards was dead.
